Self-Registration

Welcome to the State of Wisconsin's self-registration process. Self-Registration allows you to create your personal Wisconsin Login Account. This is your key to doing secure business with the State of Wisconsin over the Internet.

OVERVIEW

The self-registration process consists of two parts:

Important! We highly recommend that you complete Parts One and Two at the same time. You must complete Part Two within four (4) days of requesting the account or you will have to begin the self-registration process again.

- Part One: Requesting a Wisconsin User ID and Password

In Part One, you will submit your contact and account information. You will be sent a confirmation e-mail immediately, containing a Web link to the Account Activation page.

Note: You must have an accessible, valid, and unique e-mail address to complete the self-registration process.

- Part Two: Activating your Account

User Acceptance Agreement

Introduction

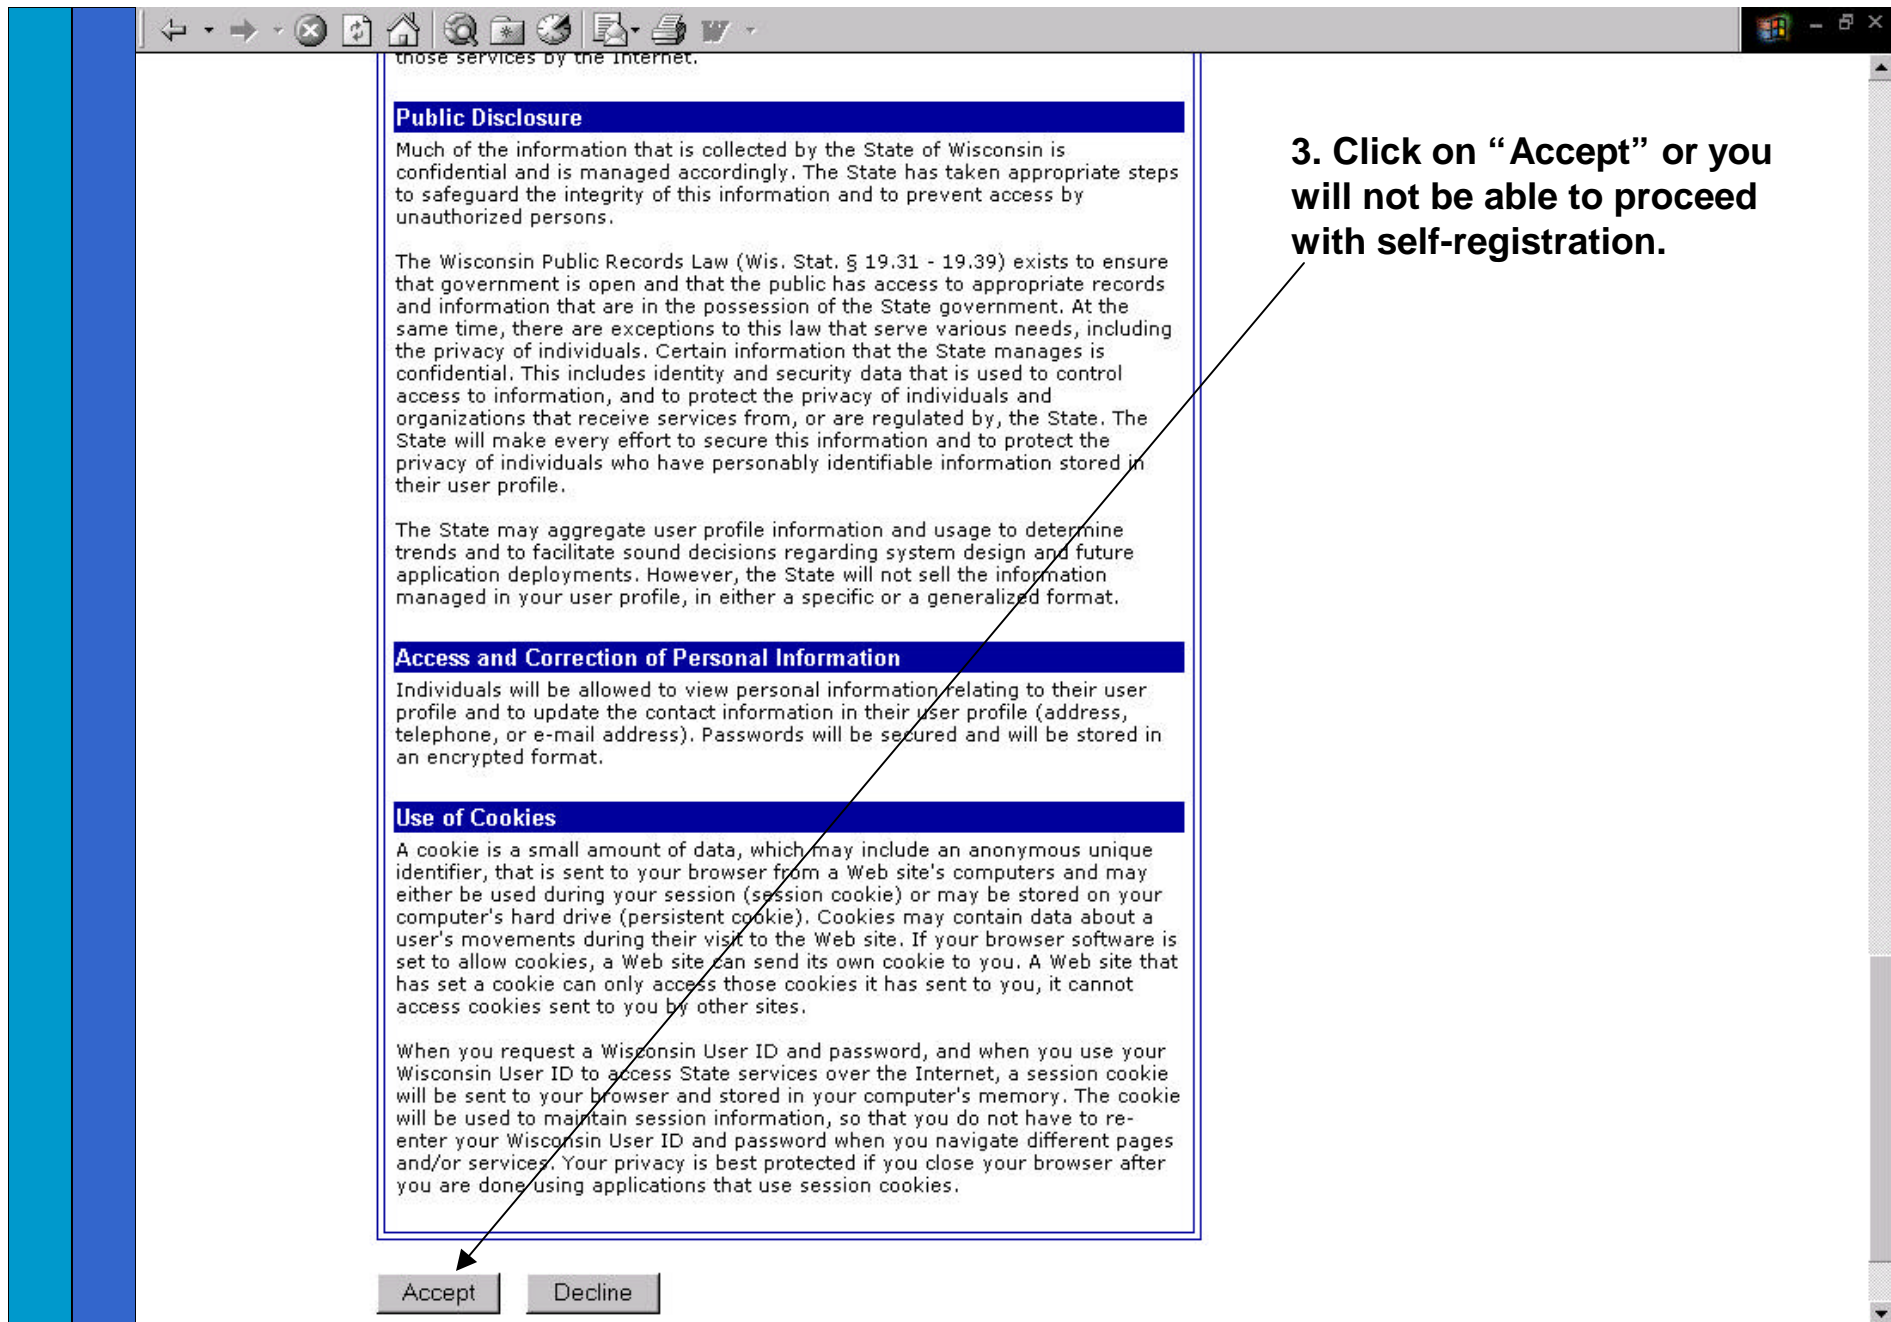

Many State agencies provide information and services by the Internet. Much of the information and many of the services do not include personal or confidential information, and are available to anyone accessing the State's Portal or agency Web sites. When access to information or services is restricted to protect your privacy or the privacy of others, you will be asked to provide a Wisconsin User ID and password. Your Wisconsin User ID and password verifies your identity so that we can provide you with access to your information and services, while restricting access by unauthorized individuals.

If you choose to accept the conditions of this user acceptance agreement, you will be prompted to provide the basic information that is required to issue a Wisconsin User ID and password. The information you provide will be stored in your user profile and will be managed according to the State's policy, as described below.

To create your account, you will be asked for your name, e-mail address, telephone number (optional), your desired account name and password. A secret question and answer will also be required for account recovery purposes. Some State Internet services may require additional information. For example, some applications may require a postal address and others may require additional forms of identification. If the necessary information is not already stored, you will be given the opportunity to add that information to your user profile. If you have provided the information previously, there will be no need to re-enter it. You will always have the choice to opt out and not provide the requested information. However, if you do so, you may not be able to complete your transaction over the Internet. You will also have the ability to review, delete or update the information stored in your user profile.

In time, we anticipate that every State agency will recognize your Wisconsin User ID and password. There will be no need to have a separate Wisconsin User ID for each agency. Once you have logged on to the Wisconsin Web Access Management System, your identification information, contact information and the other data you choose to provide, will be made available to those services by the Internet.

Public Disclosure

Much of the information that is collected by the State of Wisconsin is confidential and is managed accordingly. The State has taken appropriate steps to safeguard the integrity of this information and to prevent access by unauthorized persons.

The Wisconsin Public Records Law (Wis. Stat. § 19.31 - 19.39) exists to ensure that government is open and that the public has access to appropriate records and information that are in the possession of the State government. At the same time, there are exceptions to this law that serve various needs, including the privacy of individuals. Certain information that the State manages is confidential. This includes identity and security data that is used to control access to information, and to protect the privacy of individuals and organizations that receive services from, or are regulated by, the State. The State will make every effort to secure this information and to protect the privacy of individuals who have personally identifiable information stored in their user profile.

The State may aggregate user profile information and usage to determine trends and to facilitate sound decisions regarding system design and future application deployments. However, the State will not sell the information managed in your user profile, in either a specific or a generalized format.

Access and Correction of Personal Information

Individuals will be allowed to view personal information relating to their user profile and to update the contact information in their user profile (address, telephone, or e-mail address). Passwords will be secured and will be stored in an encrypted format.

Use of Cookies

A cookie is a small amount of data, which may include an anonymous unique identifier, that is sent to your browser from a Web site's computers and may either be used during your session (session cookie) or may be stored on your computer's hard drive (persistent cookie). Cookies may contain data about a user's movements during their visit to the Web site. If your browser software is set to allow cookies, a Web site can send its own cookie to you. A Web site that has set a cookie can only access those cookies it has sent to you, it cannot access cookies sent to you by other sites.

When you request a Wisconsin User ID and password, and when you use your Wisconsin User ID to access State services over the Internet, a session cookie will be sent to your browser and stored in your computer's memory. The cookie will be used to maintain session information, so that you do not have to re-enter your Wisconsin User ID and password when you navigate different pages and/or services. Your privacy is best protected if you close your browser after you are done using applications that use session cookies.
